

Robin Strohm, Williams & Strohm, LLC (Partner, Attorney)

Ms. Strohm is a partner with the law firm and has been practicing community association law since 2004. She has the distinguished title of Fellow in The College of Community Association Lawyers (“CCAL”). Fewer than 175 attorneys out of approximately 4,000 attorneys practicing community association law nationwide are CCAL Fellows. Ms. Strohm has extensive experience in all aspects of representation and counsel with community associations and other real estate matters. Ms. Strohm is currently the chair of the Community Associations Institute (CAI) Ohio Legislative Action Committee which focuses on implementing changes in the Ohio Legislature concerning community associations. She is a past board member and chapter president of the Central Ohio Chapter of CAI. She has spoken for the Ohio State Bar Association, the Columbus Bar Association, and is a local, state, and national speaker on various legal topics related to community associations. She has spoken nationally for CAI on topics such as condominium leasing restrictions and gun control issues affecting community associations. Ms. Strohm has published articles for the Columbus Bar Lawyers Quarterly and is a contributing writer for Baldwin’s Ohio Condominium Law book and Baldwin’s Ohio Real Estate Law. Ms. Strohm received her bachelor’s degree from The Ohio State University and her J.D. from Capital University Law School.

Henry McKenna, Reserve Advisors (Great Lakes Regional Account Manager)

Henry McKenna is the Great Lakes Regional Account Manager for Reserve Advisors. A graduate of the Eastern Illinois University, Mr. McKenna received his bachelor's degree in Business Management. Since joining the industry in 2013, he has worked with hundreds of management companies throughout Illinois, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin. In his current role, McKenna provides clients with comprehensive reserve studies and customized funding solutions that meet the needs of sustaining their community associations in excellent condition.

Mr. McKenna is responsible for meeting with and educating managers and association boards on the process and benefits of having a professional reserve study. As an industry expert, he frequently conducts seminars for industry partners including Community Associations Institute (CAI) and dozens of professional management firms. He can be reached at henry.mckenna@reserveadvisors.com or (773) 620-0607.

